TRU Indigenous Law Students Association

The Indigenous Law Students Association (ILSA) was founded in the fall of 2011 to ensure that Indigenous perspectives would be considered and included within the Faculty of Law. ILSA is a student-led club, composed of an elected executive body.

TRU ILSA strives to create a welcoming environment for all students attending TRU Law by assisting in intercultural learning and by liaising with cultural resources both on and off campus. We engage with the Faculty of Law, the greater TRU community and Tk'emlups te Secwépemc to promote diversity, equity, and Indigenous perspectives within the law by creating and supporting events for ILSA members and the community.

TRU Law Alum and Mentor

Chrystie Stewart, now a partner at Stewart & Springfod LLP Lawyers in Kamloops, was part of the TRU Law inaugural class and graduated in 2014.

She continues to serve as the Faculty of Law Indigenous Student Advisor and coach of the Kawaskimhon National Indigenous Moot competition. Our students reach out to her as a mentor and collaborator.

Convocation and Ceremonies

Traditional regalia and clothing from all nations is accepted and encouraged at TRU for important events, convocations, and ceremonies. We strongly encourage Indigenous students to wear their regalia to represent their community, First Nation, Métis, or Inuit community.

There is also a special Indigenous Student Graduation event each year where graduates and dignitaries are drummed in by traditional drummers, there is an Opening Prayer with a Tk'emlúps te Secwepemc Elder, plus a Tk'emlúps te Secwépemc territory welcome from Chief and Council, dinner, and more.
